

Intervention Services

Written by Darrin
Tuesday, 24 May 2011 03:19

Intervention is a turning point on the ugly and destructive road to addiction.

By the time an intervention is sought, most families have tried everything they possibly can to help the individual struggling with an addiction. AXIS Intervention Services is your turning point - the professional Interventionist begins the healing for the entire family by empowering those closest to the addicted individual.